

Developing intercultural competence through language education

「言語教育による異文化間能力の開発について」 30/6/2012

Yuichi Tomita University of Manchester

資料 1: Answers to questionnaires

LEAP

Q1. Did you have any other experience of learning Japanese before starting this class?

S1: (1) Learning from watching Anime & Manga.

(2) Exposure to Japanese Language through exchange programme to Japan in high school.

S2: (1) A little bit of hiragana.

(2) by watching movies

S3: (1) I learned hiragana and katakana prior to starting.

S4: (1) Watching anime and Japanese drama.

S5: (1) Basic greetings.

(2) Limited Kanji understandings.

S6: (1) Self-taught from books.

Japanese studies

Q4: Would you tell me why you took Japanese studies in Manchester University?

S1: (1) I have always been interested in Japanese culture and language since I was at school.

(2) I wanted to try living away from home, and also living in Japan.

S2: (1) I wanted to go to Japan.

(2) Wanted to meet other people who were interested in Japan.

S3: (1) Because I knew I wanted to study language(s) and I really enjoyed Japanese GCSE so wanted to carry it on.

(2) The opportunity to live a year abroad in Japan.

S4: (1) There was a study abroad year which I wanted to do.

(2) I wanted to carry on with my studies and achieve an honours degree in Japanese.

S5: (1) I read a book about Japanese culture and became interested in Japan.

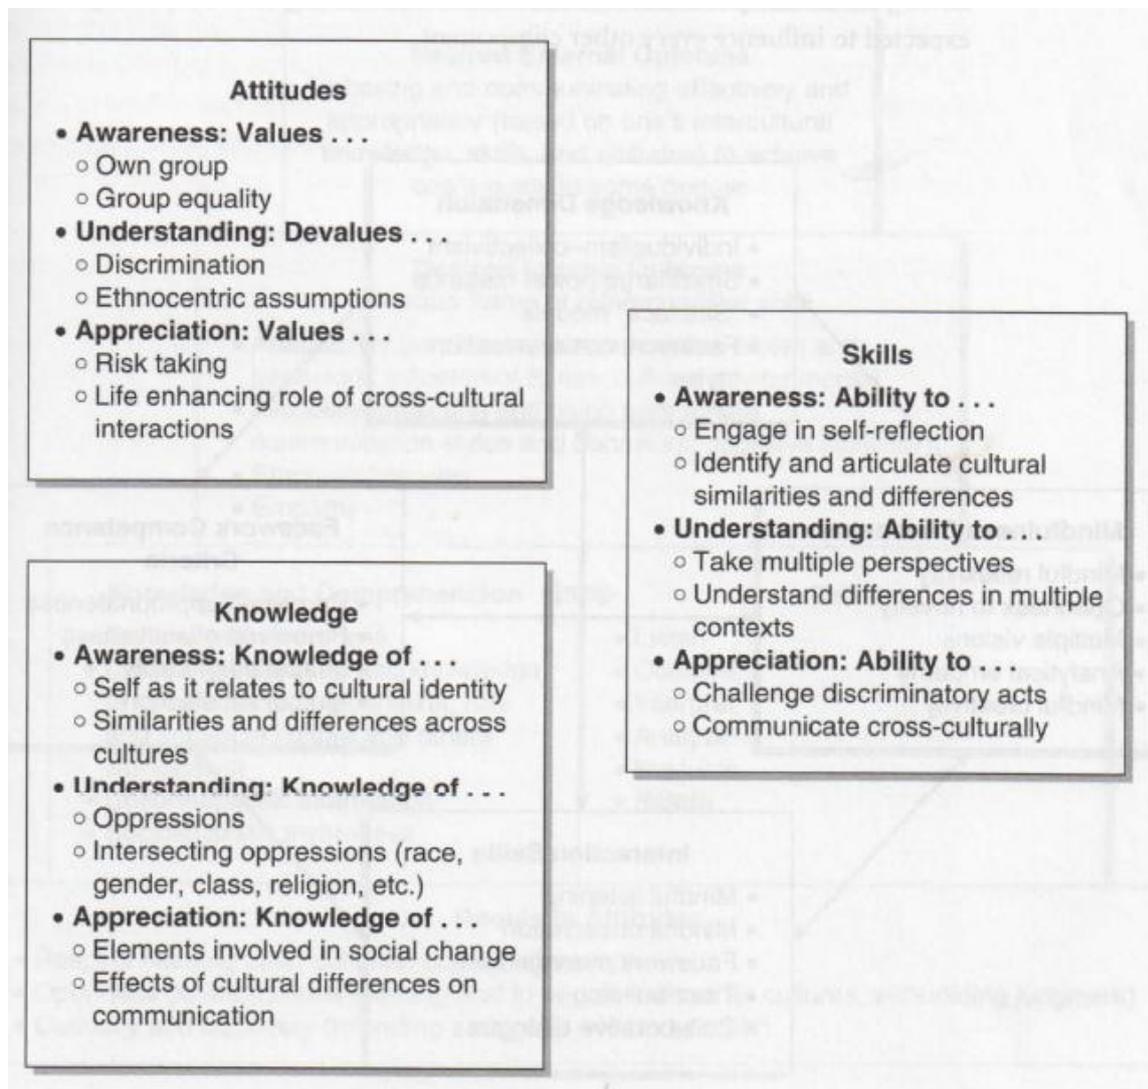

(2) I enjoyed the European languages I learnt at school and I thought Japanese language looked interesting to learn.

S6: (1) I was interested in Japanese culture, music & films.

(2) Studying abroad is exciting.

資料 2: Models of communicative competence

(1) Compositional model

Howard Hamilton et al. (1998)

(2) Co-orientational model

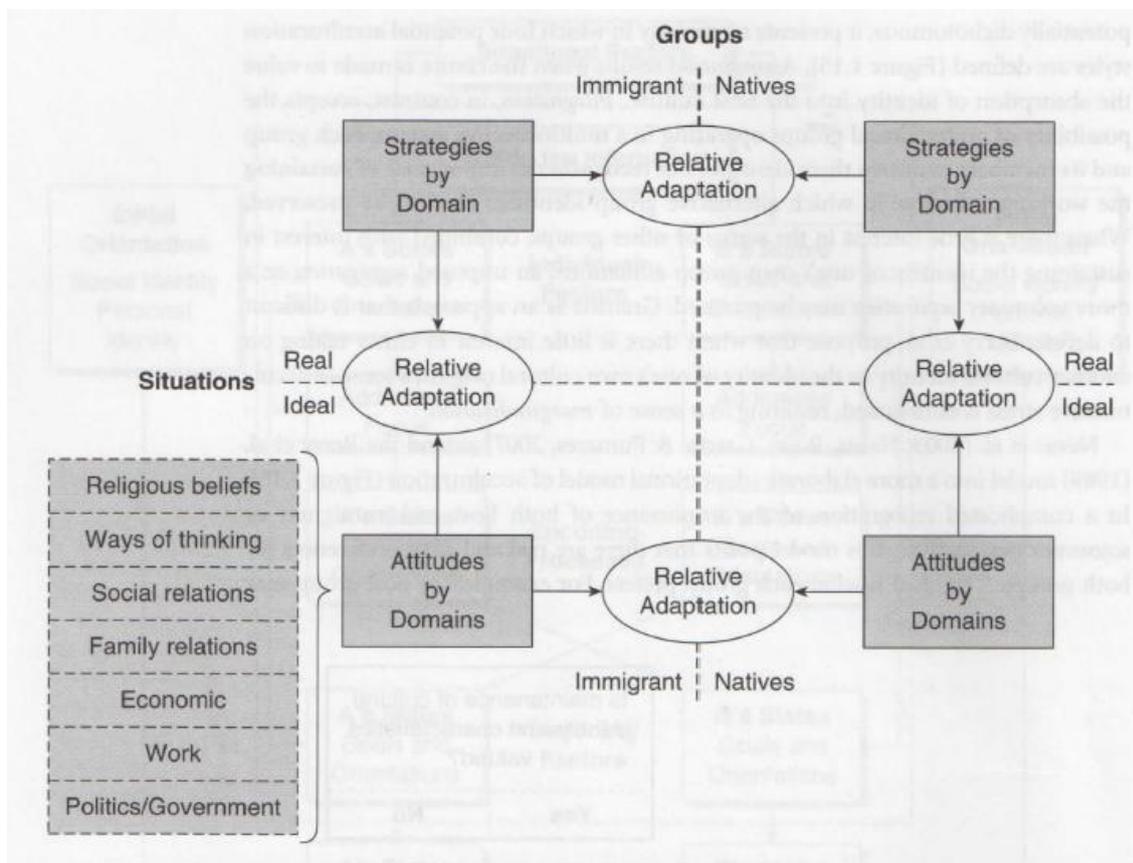

Byram (1997)

(3) Developmental model

| Initial Development Level  | Intermediate Development Level   | Mature Development Level   |
|--|--|--|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Cognitive<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ Categorical knowledge</li><li>○ Naïve about cultural practices</li><li>○ Resists knowledge challenges</li></ul></li><li>• Intrapersonal<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ Lacks awareness of social role intersections (race, class, etc.)</li><li>○ Lacks awareness of cultures</li><li>○ Externally defined beliefs</li><li>○ Differences viewed as threats</li></ul></li><li>• Interpersonal<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ Identity dependent on similar others</li><li>○ Different views are considered wrong</li><li>○ Lacks awareness of social systems and norms</li><li>○ Views social problems egocentrically</li></ul></li></ul> | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Cognitive<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ Evolving awareness and acceptance of perspectives</li><li>○ Shift from authority to autonomous knowledge</li></ul></li><li>• Intrapersonal<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ Evolving identity distinct from external perceptions</li><li>○ Tension between internal and external prompts</li><li>○ Recognizes legitimacy of other cultures</li></ul></li><li>• Interpersonal<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ Willingness to interact with divergent others</li><li>○ Explores how social systems affect group norms and relations</li></ul></li></ul> | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Cognitive<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ Able to consciously shift perspectives</li><li>○ Use multiple cultural frames</li></ul></li><li>• Intrapersonal<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ Able to create internal self</li><li>○ Challenges own views of social identities (class, race)</li><li>○ Integrates self identity</li></ul></li><li>• Interpersonal<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ Able to engage in diverse interdependent relationships</li><li>○ Ground relations in appreciation of differences</li><li>○ Understands intersection of social systems and practices</li><li>○ Willing to work for others' rights</li></ul></li></ul> |

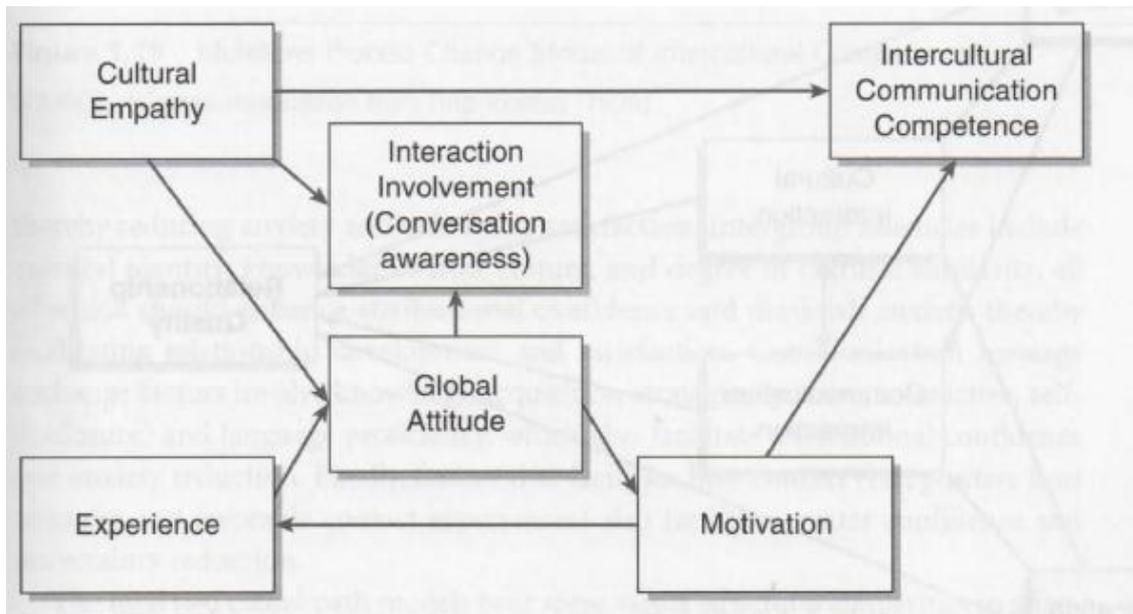

(King and Baxter Magolda, 2005)

(4) Adaptational model

Navas et al. (2005)

(5) Causal path model

Arasaratnam (2008)

References

- Arasaratnam, L.A. (2008). Further testing of a new model of intercultural communication competence. Paper presented at the annual meeting of the International Communication Association, New York, NY.
- Byram, M. (1997). Teaching and assessing intercultural communication competence. New York: Cambridge University Press.
- Coleman, James A.; Galaczi, Á. and Astruc, L. (2007). Motivation of UK school pupils towards foreign languages: a large-scale survey at Key Stage 3. Language Learning Journal, 35(2), pp. 245–280.
- Deardorff, D. K. (ed.) (2009). The SAGE handbook of intercultural competence. London: SAGE.
- Howard Hamilton, M. F., Richardson, N. J., & Shuford, B. (1998). Promoting multicultural education: A holistic approach. College Student Affairs Journal, 18, 5-17.
- King, P. M., & Baxter Magolda, M. B. (2005). A developmental model of intercultural maturity. Journal of College Student Development, 46, 571-592.
- Navas, M., García, M.C., Sánchez, J., Rojas, A. J., Pumarces, P., & Fernández, J.S. (2005). Relative acculturation extended model (RAEM): New contributions with regard to the study of acculturation. International Journal of Intercultural Relations, 29, 21-37.
- Spitzberg, B. H. & G. Changno. (2009). Conceptualizing intercultural competence. In Deardorff, D. K. (ed.) (2009). The SAGE handbook of intercultural competence. London: SAGE.
- Yashima, T. (2000). Orientations and motivation in foreign language learning: A study of Japanese college students. JACET Bulletin, 31, 121-133.