

Frequently Asked Questions

1. General FAQs for all applicants:

Q: If selected as a finalist or group presenter, will my travel expenses be paid for?

A: The Finals Day will take place online, and the finalists do not need to travel to the venue.

Q: May I bring along my friends and family to the final?

A: Yes, by all means. They are welcome to participate in the Finals Day, which will be conducted online.

2. Speech Category

Q: I attended an international school in Japan for two years. Am I still eligible for the Speech Category?

A: Yes.

Q: I have attended a full-time Japanese school in the UK for two years. Am I still eligible?

A: No.

Q: I was a prize winner in a previous Japanese Speech Contest for University Students. Can I apply again this year?

A: 1st prize winners from previous Japanese Speech Contest for University Students Finals Days cannot enter the same category again. However, 2nd prize winners and runners-up from previous contests are welcome to apply again this year.

Q: Should my composition be handwritten or word-processed?

A: Either format is fine. Please note that we only accept applications by email. Therefore, if you are submitting a handwritten composition, please scan this and email it as an attachment.

Q: What is the format of the online interview? What will I be judged on?

A: Shortlisted Speech Category applicants will undergo an online interview which will be recorded and evaluated, resulting in the selection of 5 finalists in the Speech Category. The online interview will be conducted in November (or December). During the interview you will be asked to talk for around one minute about the speech theme and composition which you wrote on your application form. You will also be asked some questions on this theme and composition. The interview will last between 10 and 12 minutes in total. Your interview will mainly be evaluated on your Japanese language ability, the content of what you say, and the content and clarity of what you say, including your original thoughts and opinions. Please see the separate document “Rules and Guidance” for information about how finalists will be judged.

Q: Can I change the theme of my speech after the online interview?

A: Speech Category finalists will be selected partly on the basis of what they say at the online interview about their chosen speech theme. Therefore, if you are selected as a finalist you may not change the broad theme of your speech after applying.
