Farwell to Deputy Director, Akiko Machimura

Japan Foundation London is delighted to announce that Akiko Machimura, our Deputy Director, will leave Japan Foundation London at the end of July. Akiko has made a significant contribution to Japan Foundation London’s activities since joining the organisation in 2000. She will be heading back to Japan to be with her family.

JF News UK 1st Anniversary Needs Giveaway

To celebrate one year since we started out and to thank the anniversary guests, you haven’t heard from us, unfortunately it means we’ve not received a lot of your support; we’re keen to improve this.

July to Japanese Cinema Month!

Japanese Cinema: Up Close and Personal - Tastemakers at the Japan Foundation

Japan’s film industry is at a peak right now, with the Japanese film industry at its peak. In fact, Japan is the third largest film producer in the world. There are plenty of wonderful films to see, and the Japan Foundation London is proud to present a range of features, documentaries, and short films.

StepOutfit Training Day and Visit

Join us for a day of training and visit to the Japan Foundation London. The day will be divided into three parts: a talk on the history and development of the Japan Foundation, a tour of the exhibition space, and a workshop on contemporary Japan.

Nihonmachi: The Japanese District

Nihonmachi is a district in Tokyo, Japan, known for its Japanese culture and language. It is a popular destination for tourists and locals alike. In this article, we provide a guide to Nihonmachi, including its history, culture, and attractions.

Talking Contemporary Japan

“Talking Contemporary Japan” is a series of talks and discussions on contemporary Japanese culture, society, and politics. The talks are free to attend and are held in English.

Results of the 2017 Japan Foundation Japan Studies Survey Released

The Japan Foundation has released the results of the 2017 Japan Studies Survey. The survey was conducted to gain insight into the attitudes of students and teachers towards Japan.

* * *

Japan Foundation London

10 Southwark Street, London SE1 1JN, UK
Tel: +44 (0) 20 7181 3470
Fax: +44 (0) 20 7181 3479
Email: info@japanfoundation.org.uk
Website: www.japanfoundation.org.uk