

Japanese Art Collections in the UK Symposium Transcript now available online

24/7/2006

In March 2006 the Japan Foundation and the Victoria and Albert Museum co-organised a symposium to investigate the state of Japanese art collections in UK museums. Thirteen curators from around the UK were invited to discuss their collections and issues relating to them. The Japan Foundation is pleased to announce that the transcription of the day's proceedings is now available online.

To access the full transcript, please check our Research/Reports page.

For details of some of the most important collections of Japanese art in the UK, please visit http://www.uk.emb-japan.go.jp/en/japaninfo/culture_museum.html